Audecius launches the Learn different. web campaign

Five black-and-white portraits open the campaign. A free physics exercise explores what individual guidance can look like. Two initial answers about a bicycle’s distance–time graph lead to different follow-up questions.

Clarity is available for iPhone and iPad. Audecius is developing Ariadne as a personal AI tutor for text, images and voice. Launch is planned for March 2027.

Planned pricing is €20 monthly or €200 annually. The preview focuses on learners from German grade 5 through the Abitur. Sibling access, age limits and final terms remain open.

Open the bicycle exercise without an account. Choose an initial thought, read the follow-up question, then try the other path. The browser example uses prewritten responses.
